Introduction

History of the Collection

These papers are in the public domain by virtue of the remarkable generosity of the Sheehy Skeffington family. The acquisition of the papers by the National Library of Ireland began in 1937 when Hanna made the first of many donations after a public appeal by the Library for documents relating to recent Irish history. The most recent transfer of material was made in 2003. In between there have been three main accessions: in 1974, in the 1980s and in the period 1997–2003. The disparate catalogues for these collections reflect the manner in which the papers have come to the Library:

1. The 1974 accession consists of some of the papers of Frank and Hanna. It is numbered MSS 21,617–21,656; 22,256–22,291; 22646 – 22,699; and 24,088 – 24,193). Its contents are listed in the 1979 Supplement to Manuscript Sources for the History of Irish Civilisation, and in the card catalogue in the Manuscript Reading Room.
2. The 1980s accession was listed by Éilís Ní Dhuibhne in Collection List No. 47. It was assigned the numbers MS 33,603 – 33,635 and consists of some 8000 items. This accession also relates mainly to Frank and Hanna.
3. The current Collection List relates mainly to the papers of Frank, Hanna and Owen Sheehy Skeffington. Work is in progress on residual material connected with Andrée Sheehy Skeffington; when completed the records describing this group will be incorporated into this List.
