PAPERS OF PAMELA LADY CAMPBELL AND HER FAMILY

(MSS 40,024-40,031)

(Accession No. 6048)

Mostly family and other correspondence of Lady Pamela Campbell, daughter of Lord
Edward Fitzgerald

Compiled by Peter Kenny, Assistant Keeper, 2004

Introduction

The Papers were acquired by the National Library of Ireland from Elizabeth Lady Campbell in January 2004 (Accession 6048).

Pamela Fitzgerald, eldest daughter of Lord Edward Fitzgerald, the United Irishman, and his wife Pamela (née Sims, d. 1831), was born at Hamburg in 1796. She married Sir Guy Campbell on 21 November 1820. Sir Guy's first wife, Frances Elizabeth (née Burgoyne), had died in 1818. They had an only child who was named after her mother. The marriage of Sir Guy and Lady Pamela produced eleven children.

The Papers mostly consist of correspondence with family and friends.

Additional papers of Lady Campbell and her family held by the National Library are listed in Collection List 46 (Lennox / Fitzgerald / Campbell Papers).
