INTRODUCTION

The family and estates

The earliest records relating to the Conyngham estates date from Brigadier Henry Conyngham who flourished in the late seventeenth century. He was the eldest son of Sir Albert Conyngham, and in 1696 married Mary Lady Shelbourne. From this marriage the family acquired a considerable amount of land, including property in Kent. Brigadier Henry Conyngham died in 1705/6 and was succeeded by his eldest son William (recorded as Williams on the records). He died in 1738 and was succeeded by his brother Henry who married Ellen Merrit. He was raised to the peerage of Ireland by the title Baron Conyngham of Mountcharles in October 1753. Later he was created Viscount Conyngham in June 1756 and Earl and Baron Conyngham of Mountcharles in 1781. A sister of Henry married Francis Burton of Buncraggy, Co Clare.

When Henry died without issue the estate was divided between two nephews – Francis Pierpoint Burton (who inherited the title and estates in Clare and England) and William Burton (who inherited the estates in Counties Donegal and Meath).¹ They both took the name Conyngham (by royal licence). When William died in 1796 the estates were reunited under the title. Francis Pierpoint married Elizabeth Clements, sister of Robert 1st Earl of Leitrim, and died in 1787.

He was succeeded by his eldest son Henry (who became 1st Marquis Conyngham).² He was created Viscount Conyngham of Mountcharles in 1789, Viscount Mountcharles and Earl Conyngham in 1797. He was a representative peer. In 1816 he was created Viscount Slane, Earl Mountcharles and Marquis Conyngham in 1816; finally, he was created Baron Minster of Minster Abbey, Kent. He married Elizabeth Denison in 1794; and died in 1832.

The 2nd Marquis Conyngham, son of Henry, was Francis Nathaniel born in 1797, married in 1824 and died in 1876.

His son, George Henry (1825-1882) was 3rd Marquis Conyngham;

His son, Henry Francis (1857-97) was 4th Marquis Conyngham;

His son, Victor George Henry Francis (1883-1918, died unmarried) was 5th Marquis Conyngham;

His brother, Frederick William Burton (1890-1974) was 6th Marquis Conyngham;

His son, Frederick William Henry Francis (1924-) is 7th Marquis Conyngham; his eldest son, Henry Vivian Pierpoint is Earl of Mountcharles. Lord Mountcharles' eldest son, Alexander Burton Conyngham is Viscount Slane.

Conyngham Papers

In 1876 the Conynghams owned lands in co Donegal (122,300 acres), Co Clare (27,613 acres), Co Meath (7,060 acres) and Kent (9,737 acres). The address of the family at this date was Bifrons, Canterbury.

The collection which amounts to seventy-three boxes of material was deposited in the National Library by Lord Mountcharles on loan in 1954 (Accession No. 1539). The records mainly date from the early eighteenth century to the 1920s. The collection is by no means complete; for example most of the correspondence dates from about 1818-25; there are rentals for the same period and then a gap to the late nineteenth century.

While several of the Conynghams served as Members of Parliament and were in the army there are no related papers and there are very few family or personal papers. There are, however, a number of marriage settlements and some testamentary material

Most of the collection relates to estate administration (legal records, estate correspondence, rentals and accounts etc). In Co Donegal there were four distinct estates (Boylagh, Mountcharles, the Rosses and Stranorlar), the Co Meath estate was centred around Slane and that in Co Clare around Kilkee. There are also a number of items relating to the Kent estate.

The legal records (which include settlements, mortgages, leases, Irish Land Commission papers, and conveyances etc) are mainly in copy or draft form and in the case of the latter are sometimes amended (occasionally heavily). Most of the legal records were prepared by the family solicitors in London (John Benbow and later members of the firm). Some of the records are in the names of trustees of the various estates (who were sometimes related to the family).

The correspondence is principally letters from the estate agents and the 1st Marquis to John Benbow, and deals almost exclusively with the day-to-day running of the estates.

The collection includes early legal records relating to the Burton family in Co Clare and Co Limerick (dating to the mid-seventeenth century) and the McCausland family (who owned the manor of Stranorlar (dating to 1654); Hannah Conyngham married Rev Oliver McCausland in 1785. There are also a number of records relating to the manor of Limavady/Newtownlimavady (dating to the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries) and lands in Wales.

There are a number of collections of Conyngham papers in other institutions, mainly records relating to their English property from 1592 in the East Kent Record Office.³

The collection has been arranged in three subgroups (I) Estate administration, (II) Family, and (III) Records with no obvious connection to the Conyngham family.

The subgroup 'Estate administration' has been broken down into records relating to the estates in general and into the counties in which the family had land (and further broken down into the places within each county). In the case of each of these the records have been divided into legal records, estate correspondence, rentals and accounts, and other records.

In the subgroup 'Family' the records have been divided into a number of sections including marriage and other settlements, testamentary records, correspondence and accounts etc.

I Estate administration

This sub-group comprises records relating to the administration of the Conyngham estates principally in counties Clare, Donegal (where there were four distinct estates), Meath and Kent. The records include items relating to estates held by the Burton family (Clare and Limerick) the McCausland family and the Stewart family (Donegal) and the Aickin family (Meath). A considerable amount of the records are in the names of trustees (who were appointed under the provision of various settlements and wills) including Sir Theodore Brinckman, Arthur Lord Wrottesley, Arthur de Moleyns and Frederick Ramsden (some of whom were related to the family). The records mostly date from the early eighteenth century to the 1920s.

I.i.2. Estate correspondence and related items (Mss 35,344 – 6)

The correspondence dates from 1794 to c.1925, mostly from 1819 to 1827. It is principally addressed to John Benbow (1 Stone Buildings, Lincolns Inn, London), who was solicitor to the Conyngham family. Much of the correspondence is of a routine nature: such as Conyngham's requests for appointments; letters relating to Marquis Conyngham's agents' accounts and rentals; individual cases; petitions and applications for situations. Much of the correspondence is by Henry, 1st Marquis Conyngham and includes some letters addressed to him. There are also letters from Henry Joseph, Lord Mountcharles (died 1824). The economic depression of the early 1820s is reflected in the letters. The correspondence from 1827 is very sporadic and of a miscellaneous nature. Except where stated the quotes are from letters from Marquis Conyngham to John Benbow.

- Ms 35,344 (1) Includes letter from John Benbow to Henry Viscount Conyngham concerning the making of a trust deed (21 June 1795), and letter relating to an advertisement 'directing those who might have any claim on the late Hon Burton Cunningham [sic] to send accounts' (5 July 1796); 7 letters.
1794-6

- (2) Includes correspondence relating to the Shanagolden estate in Limerick (1803); letter concerning fishing rights in the River Owea, County Donegal and the action of the agent to Mr Murray's estate (17 May 1806); and papers as to the establishment of an Irish mining company (1807); c.30 letters.
1803-08

- (3) Correspondents include John Finlay, Dublin and Francis Mansfield. Includes copy of letter from Col William Armstrong to Col Browne, army agent, Dublin; and letter re provision for Conyngham's children (26 May 1816); 20 letters.
1808-16

- (4) Includes correspondence relating to recovery of revenue arrears from James Montgomery, collector of customs for the district of Killybegs (Conyngham was one of his sureties), 1817-21; letters relating to Earl Llandaff's bond (1818); letters from William Armstrong re his claim for money for the price of the 'ensigncy in my company' (Conyngham was commandant of the Londonderry regiment); detailed letter from Francis Mansfield concerning the River Owea fishery, 2 June 1817, he refers to the award made by Sir Arthur Forbes on 8 June 1672 'that each party shall have the right of fishery within their respective proportions and if one should have

- Ms 35,344 (4 cntd) lands on the one side of the loughs and rivers and the other on the otherside that each party shall have equal freedom and priviledge (sic) of the said fishings' and to the further award of 3 Oct 1674; letter from George Pentland concerning Lord Ponsonby's debt, (25 Sept 1818); 20 letters.
1817-21
- (5) Includes references to the level of arrears on his estates; Conyngham writes 'you cannot be surprised at the great astonishment I expressed at the arrears due to me on my estates in Ireland' (29 July) and 'that the greatest mismangement seems to have occurred in the collection at Stranorlar – shameful arrears also in Boyleagh and Mountcharles (5 Aug); circular as to the appointment of clerks of the peace (20 Nov); and printed letter from Association for Discountenancing Vice & Promoting Knowledge and Practice of the Christian Relief re subscription; c. 30 letters
1819
- (6) Includes references to the election; Conyngham wrote 'I am informed Government seats are going very cheap. Pray make private enquiries and let me hear from you on the subject as probably I might be tempted to purchase for Francis (second son and later 2nd Marquis) – of course you keep this perfectly secret', (13 Mar). He wrote in relation to Francis's appointment that: 'the King did it in the most amiable and kind manner – unsolicited & tis certainly the best appointment in his gift except the very tip top; I like it as it fixes him about the King's person' (16 Apr); includes letters from Lord Mountcharles re grant of land to the church at Templecroan (sic) (4 Aug); correspondence relating to Sir Henry Montgomery; letters about rent levels and abatements 'I do not recommend harsh measures to be adopted against my tenants but I wish them to be punctual & industrious' (12 Nov). Includes a letter about Benbow's employment in which Conyngham writes 'I certainly feel myself quite in the dark as to the state of my affairs in Ireland. The agents are of course quite silent they neither remit as formerly to me the rentals or accounts – I have frequently mentioned to you I should not write to them on business' (3 Dec); c. 50 letters.
1820
- (7) Correspondence as to person to value estate in County Donegal applications; 11 letters.
1820-1

(I.i.2. General estate administration: correspondence)

- Ms 35,345 (1) Includes letters about the appointment of a sub-agent in County Donegal, their duties etc; Lord Ponsonby's affairs, (28 Jan); and re James Montgomery's debt; 23 letters.
Jan-May 1821
- (2) Includes letters relating to the kelp industry; Conyngham wrote 'what answer ought I send to the kelp memorial – Rogers certainly deserves encouragement. He is an active bustling little man. Why not establishment a company of ... kelp fellows on my 900 acres paying a kind of duty as rent. Rogers would be delighted to take the land?' 30 June 1821. He states that 'I shall with pleasure give nine thousand guineas for Lord Shannon's house and fixtures furnished', He refers to the fact that 'the King has paid us a visit – and seems quite delighted with Slane', 29 Aug 1821; 17 letters.
June-Sept 1821
- (3) Includes correspondence with reference to the purchase of O'Neills estate in County Meath: 'tis a most desirable purchase in point of situation to Slane – and though £12,500 is a great sum we think it is better to give it than lose the purchase' (23 Nov; the figure of £12000 is referred in a letter of 12 Dec). The economic difficulties are mentioned in several letters; Lord Mountcharles writing from Ennis states 'the country is in a most lamentable situation nothing but the most active exertions of the police can prevent a most unpleasant winter. I have reason to believe that there are some religious motives mixed up with a determination to resist the payment of tithes and rents. I regret extremely that my father's tenants have been called upon to pay an increase of rent ... the impolicy of the measure during existing circumstances, ought to receive some attention' (28 Nov); some days later Conyngham writes 'Mountcharles still at Ennis ... he gives a woeful account of my tenantry – most of them unable to pay actually starving & in justice to them a general abatement in the rents ought to be made' (12 Dec). Conyngham also writes of his appointment as a privy councillor and 'Lord steward of the Kings houses' (11 Dec); c. 30 letters.
Sept-Dec 1821

(I.i.2. General estate administration: estate correspondence)

- Ms 35,345 (4) Letters from Lord Mountcharles to John Benbow and his father. In his letters to Benbow he refers to his position in Ireland, 'I thought it my duty to come down to this disturbed part of the country (Co Clare), to show that my wish would ever be, to come forward, when my presence could be of any use ... The fact is I wish to travel, and unless I alter my opinion very much I shall take a year's absence – my father promised to establish me comfortably in the north – I had no objection to reside part of the year there ... this promise has not been kept' (16 Dec 1821). The state of Co Clare is mentioned and the fact that the purchase of the O'Neill estate 'is finally arranged' (2 Jan 1822); 8 letters.
1821-2
- (5) Letters of applications for situations; c. 20 letters.
1821
- (6) Letters refer to the purchase of Lord Wicklow's estate at Fennor, Co Meath: 'the obtaining of Fennor would be a very great object to me' (22 Jan); letters from Thomas Dodd about sending someone to inspect lands in Donegal for mines; letters relating to clerks of the peace; and letters referring to the distress in County Clare; c. 35 letters.
1822
- (7) Correspondence from and relating to the claim for money by Major General Armstrong; includes letters from him complaining about Benbow's conduct towards him. Includes extract of letter from Armstrong dated 21 Feb 1809; 16 letters.
1822
- Ms 35,346 (1) Includes correspondence relating to William Gethin's and Dr Fisher's premises in Slane 18 letters.
1822-3
- (2) Correspondence marked 'Marquis C. miscellaneous', letters from Robert Fraser concerning prospects for the fishing industry etc. He carried out various inspections of harbours and fisheries in the west of Ireland. He reports 'I have no doubt but that Rutland would make an admirable fishing station, but I have seen another station on the Marquis Conyngham's estate, on Malbay ... extremely well adapted to building not a fishery station only, but a considerable town' (10 Dec 1822). Includes 'Report on the distillation of spirits in Ireland for the Chancellor of the Exchequer' (11 Mar 1823); 23 letters.
1822-3

(I.i.2. General estate administration: estate correspondence)

- Ms 35,346 (3) Includes correspondence from James Brown, Flushing, near Falmouth, regarding proposals for the fishing industry and the establishment of a permanent fishery at Rutland. The Marquis Conyngham wrote to Benbow, 'I should recommend the houses to be given (at Rutland) to any company that might be formed' (7 Jan 1823). Includes pamphlet by James Brown, A letter to the committee for the management of the affairs of Scilly islands (1819). Letter from John Irwin proposing the establishment of more schools in Co Donegal; 25 letters.

Lii.2. Co Clare estate correspondence and related items (Ms 35,364 – 5)

The bulk of the correspondence dates from the early 1820s and is from Conyngham's local agent Robert Keane (Beechpark, Ennis). Most of the letters are addressed to John Benbow (Marquis Conyngham's solicitor) and to Henry, 1st Marquis Conyngham. The correspondence deals with the day-to-day administration of the estate. Subjects covered are agent's accounts, collection of rent and arrears, proposals for the abatement of rent, holdings falling out of lease, and recommendations as to who should be the new lessee (with character references). There are also a number of petitions from tenants. The state of the county and the economic depression of the early 1820s are commented on. There are some references to Conyngham's estate in County Limerick. The later items include presscuttings and letters concerning landlord tenant relations in Kilkee (1866) which were the subject of a pamphlet by Sylvester Malone, Tenant wrong illustrated in a nutshell; or, a history of Kilkee in relation to landlordism during the last seven years in a letter addressed to Right Honorable W.E. Gladstone M.P. (Dublin 1857) 57pp. The correspondence is arranged chronologically.

- Ms 35,364 (1) Includes comments about the payment of election agents; 6 items.
Nov 1818

(I.ii.2. County Clare: estate correspondence and related items)

- Ms 35,364 (2) Includes correspondence relating to Keane's paying off the balance of money due to Conyngham, and the state of the country; 'The prices of corn of every description, hay, beef etc are so miserably low, should they continue so I fear it will be hard to get in the rents this winter' (27 Oct 1819); 15 items.
1819
- (3) There are several letters addressed to Benbow from Keane offering terms of settlement of his outstanding account; 18 items.
1820
- (4) Includes petitions from tenants for reduction in rents etc from Clohane, Dromelihiy, and Tulassa (includes 'statement of proposed letting to 5 setts of cottier tenants'). Despite the distressed state of the county Keane writes, 'we are very quiet, we have a strong military force and a large establishment of police, private robberies are the only things we have to complain of' (11 Feb). The low prices of commodities are a constant theme and Keane suggested that 'it will require £500 to relieve them (the tenants) effectively some of the money should be laid out immediately in purchasing meal while it is cheap and the remainder should be laid out in purchasing seed potatos' (23 Apr). List of increase of abatements recommended from 1 May 1821. Referring to a visit by Lord Mountcharles, Keane writes, 'he is very much liked, I wish he was to spend so much time with us every year, our country would be the better of it, and I have no doubt but his coming to the country at this particular period and his advise to the tenants has had a very good effect' (11 Dec); 23 items.
1821
- (5) Includes petition from the tenants of Ballyea (at the end of which Conyngham has noted 'the reason for my not granting the abatement required proceeds from the petitioners stating a falsehood; I never did promise them an abatement'). Also includes letters relating to the office of clerk of peace of Clare, seizure of stock, delay in getting accounts ready, and a copy letter from Keane to Marquis Conyngham as to the relief of tenants in Clare (21 Apr); 22 items.
1822

(I.ii.2. County Clare: estate correspondence and related items)

- Ms 35,364 (6) Includes letters re Crown rents (27 Jan), condition of fishermen (5 Feb), in relation to his delay in sending in accounts Keane writes, 'I expect now that the fairs are coming on to be able to get in a large sum of money' (2 May). He refers to the circumstances of the tenantry around Kilrush: 'even the middlemen are as badly off, as they depended on the payments of cottiers' (3 May). Includes petitions from tenants of Ballyea, and Rathmeehan; 19 items.
1823
- (7) Includes references to the improved state of the tenantry, Keane writes, 'I have pleasure to tell you that everything is rising and that his Lordship's estate was not since the peace in so fair a way of doing well as it is at present' (22 Feb); again Keane commented, 'we have had the finest season ever and the best crops I ever recollect seeing and the tenants are beginning to pay in their rents with satisfaction' (29 Sept). Includes letter from Keane's son, Frank N. Keane, to Marquis Conyngham, and proposals for taking lands; 17 items.
1824
- (8) Includes a statement by Keane: 'the government talk of headquarters being removed from Ennis to Clare Castle which will injure the town materially; if your Lordship could prevent it the inhabitants would be greatly obliged and it would put them under such an obligation to your family that might hereafter be of use' (25 Apr). Includes 5 letters from Giles Daxon, Ennis, and account of work done on estate in 'cutting a canal through the lands of Gurtgarrane otherwise Clondramore'; 16 items.
1824-25
- (9) Keane's proposals for leases. Document recording number, denomination, tenant's names, rents (1 May 1826), rental at which Keane thinks leases might be granted, and observations; 1 item.
Dec 1826
- (10) Petition of the tenantry of Dromelihy concerning rents etc; 4 items.
1827-8
- (11) Letters to Robert Keane from J. Dennison & Co and Marquis Conyngham of a miscellaneous nature; 2 items.

I.ii.3. Rentals and cash accounts (Mss 35,366 – 75)

There are a number of series of rentals for the county, e.g. for the Kilkee estate. The rentals generally record the denomination of land, the tenant's name, amount of rent, arrears, poor rates allowed and amount paid.

(I.ii.3. County Clare: rentals and cash accounts)

The agent's accounts include the amount received from rent; payments include quit rents, head rents, tithe-rent charges, land improvements charges, insurance and legal expenses.

The rentals and accounts are mostly loose pages sewn together, those for the later years are soft backed volumes.

(i) Rentals

(a) Rentals for the Clare estates in general

The rentals generally do not include Kilkee town and Dough and are usually for the year ended.

1.iii. County Donegal

1.iii.1. Legal records (Mss 35,377 – 91)

The Conyngham family had four distinct estates in the county: Boylagh, Mountcharles, the Rosses and Stranorlar. (including the Tyrcallen estate) The records have been divided, as far as possible into the baronies in which the estates were situated. It was not practicable to separate the records dealing with the Boylagh and Rosses estates as they were both in the same barony. There is also a section dealing with the estate as a whole in the county. The records include leases, recoveries, agreements, conveyances and statements of title etc. The records also include papers relating to the McCausland and Stewart families. Some of records are in the names of trustees of the Conyngham family including Arthur, Lord Wrottesley and Sir Theodore Brinckman, and the trustees under the will of Victor, 5th Marquis, Frances, Marchioness Conyngham and Herbert Blunt.

I.iii.2. County Donegal: Estate correspondence and related items (Ms 35,392 – 3)

Most of the correspondence dates to the early/mid 1820s and is from agents of the estates and is principally addressed to John Benbow and Marquis Conyngham. The agent of Boylagh, Mountcharles and Stranorlar estates was Francis Mansfield and that for the Rosses estate Nassau Forster who succeeded John Hanlon in Oct 1819. The topics cover the full range of estate duties, sending in accounts and rentals, difficulties in collecting rents due to economic and other circumstances, recovery of rents, suggested abatements, lands falling out of lease, suggestions as to who should be the new tenant, and individual cases. The Rosses correspondence includes the deteriorating state of premises on Rutland island, and the fishing and kelp industries. The later correspondence is sporadic and is mainly to and from John Pomeroy (agent for the estates); includes letters from Father James MacFadden; suggested terms of sale of the Mountcharles and Glenties estates; and particulars of damage done to the Hall (Mountcharles) during the occupation by Irregular forces in 1922.

- Ms 35,392 (1) Letters to Francis Mansfield, correspondents include James Montgomery and Alexander Montgomery; 4 items. 1795
- (2) Correspondence relating to Innishfree island, includes calculation of renewal fine; 3 items. 1795, n.d.
- (3) Correspondence relating to minerals on the Donegal estates including 'discoveries and observations made by Donald Stewart, minerologist to the Dublin Society' (1797). Correspondents include Thomas Dodd, writing from Middleton, Teesdale, by Barnard Castle, (Marquis Conyngham in a letter to Benbow wrote 'I wish you would reply immediately to Mr Dodd mentioning he was perfectly welcome to try his luck in Donegal & Slane at his own expense' (29 Feb 1820)), and Jos Hume who reported on specimens from Donegal he reported that 'I suspect that, although not one of these specimens presents an encouraging prospect of value, there may be metallic productions in their vicinity' (29 Apr 1819); c. 15 items. 1797, 1800, 1816-20

(I.iii.2. County Donegal: estate correspondence and related items)

I.iii.3. Rentals and agent's accounts (Mss 35,394 – 400)

There is a series of rentals and agent's accounts for each of the estates in the county and a series relating to the county in general.

The rentals generally record denomination, tenant's names, arrears, rent received, poor rate allowed and observations. The agent's accounts record income from rents and payments including salaries, rent charges, poor rates and miscellaneous payments.

Most of the rentals and accounts were prepared on a yearly basis, and except where otherwise stated are for the year ending

The rentals and accounts are generally pages sewn together, some for the later years are in volumes.

I.vi.3. Rentals and accounts (Mss 35,416 – 8)

The rentals and accounts were compiled by the agent. The agents of the Slane estate in the 1820s were William Dean and George Pentland, and from c. 1920 Charles Keane, Edward Sclater and F.M. Boylan.

Until the mid 1820s the rentals do not record the denomination of land occupied by each tenant, however the rent roll (c. 1818) does record this detail as well as the term which each tenant held his holding. The early rentals were compiled half-yearly (in May and November) and most of the later ones yearly.

In the agent's accounts the payments included head and quit rents, rent charges and tithes, repairs and improvements, insurance, rates, taxes and salaries. For a number of years the accounts and rentals are included in the one volume. Accounts include Slane improvement accounts, demesne workmen's accounts (which record how each worker was employed and his wages etc).

The rental and accounts are generally pages sewn together or soft-backed volumes.
